REVIEW OF REGULATIONS AND APPLICATION

Committee members further reviewed the application form for certification. The section referencing "Clinical Training and Work Experience" was discussed and revised to include a separate form for psychoanalytic institutes to provide information to the Committee regarding accreditation, if applicable. There was also discussion on the required documentation from applicants who attended non-accredited institutes. A concern was expressed that it may take some institutes a considerable length of time to submit transcripts as some institutes have limited administrative resources. The Committee identified the American Board for Accreditation in Psychoanalysis, Inc and the Accreditation Board of the Society of Modern Psychoanalysts as the current known accrediting bodies.
